Assessing Organizational Culture ...determining alignment with strategic direction

Friday, July 13, 2007, 9:00am -12:00pm

Organizational culture is an area of concern to many corporate executives because they see it as a barrier to organizational and strategic change. Practitioners concerned with coaching executives through culture change will first want to assess the current culture to determine areas of alignment and misalignment with the strategic direction.

This presentation will provide an overview of the important issues in assessing organizational culture...

...the nature of the nature of organizational culture and climate

...methods for assessing culture both qualitatively and quantitatively

...the quantitative relationship between leadership and culture
